

Consumer Protection Regulations in Banking Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Banking Institute	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

In today’s rapidly evolving financial ecosystem, consumer protection in banking has become a critical pillar of regulatory compliance, financial stability, and customer trust. With increasing digital transformation, fintech disruption, and data-driven banking models, financial institutions must align with global consumer protection frameworks, fair banking practices, data privacy laws, and ethical financial conduct. Consumer Protection Regulations in Banking Training Course provides a comprehensive understanding of consumer rights, regulatory obligations, complaint handling mechanisms, transparency standards, and risk mitigation strategies within the banking sector.

This intensive training equips banking professionals with practical knowledge of consumer protection regulations, compliance frameworks, conduct risk management, digital banking safeguards, and regulatory enforcement mechanisms. Participants will explore real-world case studies, emerging regulatory trends, and best practices to ensure customer-centric banking, regulatory adherence, fraud prevention, and enhanced customer experience in line with Basel guidelines, GDPR principles, and local regulatory frameworks.
