

Gender and Development (GAD) Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Community Development	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Gender and Development (GAD) Training Course is designed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of gender equality, social inclusion, and sustainable development frameworks. This course equips learners with practical tools, innovative strategies, and policy insights to integrate gender perspectives effectively into organizational processes, community programs, and development projects. Emphasizing the intersectionality of gender with economic, social, and political dimensions, participants will gain skills to identify gender disparities, promote equal opportunities, and influence decision-making processes that foster equitable development.

The course incorporates international standards, emerging trends in gender mainstreaming, and evidence-based approaches to address systemic inequalities. Through interactive learning, case studies, and participatory methodologies, participants will develop competencies in gender analysis, advocacy, and program evaluation. By the end of the training, learners will be able to design, implement, and monitor gender-responsive interventions that drive organizational growth, strengthen social impact, and contribute to sustainable development goals (SDGs).
