

Training Course on Leading Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Initiatives in Libraries

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Library Institute	Duration	10 Days
Base Fee	$3,000 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Training Course on Leading Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Initiatives in Libraries is meticulously designed to empower library professionals with the essential knowledge, practical skills, and strategic frameworks needed to champion Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) within their institutions. In an increasingly interconnected and diverse world, libraries stand as critical pillars of community empowerment, intellectual freedom, and social justice. This program goes beyond theoretical understanding, focusing on actionable strategies to create truly inclusive library environments where every individual feels valued, respected, and has equitable access to resources and opportunities. We aim to foster cultural competence, dismantle systemic barriers, and cultivate a sense of belonging for all patrons and staff, ensuring libraries remain vibrant and relevant community hubs.

The modern library must evolve as a dynamic and responsive space, reflecting the rich tapestry of the communities it serves. This course addresses the imperative for equitable access, representative collections, and inclusive programming in libraries. By equipping participants with the tools to assess current practices, identify areas for growth, and implement impactful DEI initiatives, we will collectively advance the library's mission to serve all people. This program emphasizes inclusive leadership, bias mitigation, and community engagement to drive sustainable change and create library spaces that are truly welcoming, accessible, and reflective of diverse perspectives and experiences.

Module 1: Foundations of DEI in the Library Context

- Defining Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging (DEIB) and their interconnectedness.
- Understanding the historical context of exclusion in libraries and the need for reparative justice.
- Exploring the moral, ethical, and strategic imperative for DEI in modern libraries.
- Identifying the benefits of a truly inclusive library for staff, patrons, and the wider community.
- Case Study: Analyzing a public library's foundational DEI statement and its impact on mission and vision.

Module 2: Inclusive Leadership and Organizational Culture

- Characteristics of inclusive leadership: empathy, courage, accountability, and psychological safety.
- Strategies for fostering a culture of belonging and mutual respect within library teams.
- Addressing microaggressions and creating a speak-up culture.
- Developing allyship and sponsorship programs for underrepresented staff.
- Case Study: Examining a university library's successful inclusive leadership development program and its impact on staff retention.

Module 3: Understanding and Mitigating Unconscious Bias

- Exploring various types of unconscious biases and their impact on decision-making in libraries (e.g., hiring, collection development, patron interactions).
- Techniques for recognizing and challenging personal and systemic biases.
- Implementing "debiasing" strategies in everyday library operations.
- Creating fair and equitable processes for evaluation and promotion.

- Case Study: A municipal library's initiative to re-evaluate their hiring process to reduce implicit bias and increase staff diversity.

Module 4: Equitable Access and Accessibility for All

- Universal Design principles for physical and digital library spaces.
- Ensuring accessibility for patrons with disabilities (e.g., ADA compliance, assistive technologies).
- Addressing digital equity: bridging the digital divide and providing equitable internet access.
- Creating inclusive signage, wayfinding, and communication materials.
- Case Study: A rural library's successful implementation of a mobile hotspot lending program to address digital inequity in their community.

Module 5: Diversifying Library Collections

- Strategies for conducting a DEI audit of existing library collections.
- Identifying gaps and biases in representation across various formats and genres.
- Developing diverse and inclusive collection development policies and selection criteria.
- Acquiring materials from underrepresented authors, publishers, and perspectives.
- Case Study: A school library's project to decolonize their collection, leading to a significant increase in culturally relevant books.

Module 6: Culturally Responsive Programming and Outreach

- Designing programs that resonate with diverse cultural backgrounds and interests.
- Engaging underrepresented communities through tailored outreach strategies.
- Leveraging community partnerships for co-created programming.
- Measuring the impact and effectiveness of inclusive programs.
- Case Study: A public library's successful multilingual storytime series and its impact on fostering community connections.

Module 7: Building Cultural Competence and Humility

- Defining cultural competence vs. cultural humility and their importance for library professionals.
- Developing intercultural communication skills and empathy.
- Understanding different cultural norms and communication styles.
- Strategies for continuous learning and self-reflection in cultural understanding.
- Case Study: A library system's ongoing professional development program focused on increasing staff cultural humility through workshops and guest speakers.

Module 8: Data-Driven DEI: Assessment and Evaluation

- Identifying key metrics and indicators for measuring DEI progress in libraries.
- Collecting and analyzing demographic data responsibly and ethically.
- Utilizing surveys, focus groups, and feedback channels to gauge community needs and satisfaction.
- Developing action plans based on DEI assessment findings.
- Case Study: A university library's use of patron usage data and diversity surveys to inform their DEI strategic plan.

Module 9: Navigating Difficult Conversations with Empathy

- Strategies for facilitating open and respectful dialogues about sensitive DEI topics.
- Active listening and empathetic communication techniques.

- Addressing resistance and discomfort in DEI conversations.
- Setting boundaries and fostering psychological safety for challenging discussions.
- Case Study: A workshop scenario simulating a staff meeting where a microaggression occurs, and practicing effective responses.

Module 10: Community Partnerships and Engagement

- Identifying and building authentic relationships with diverse community organizations and leaders.
- Strategies for co-creating programs and services with community input.
- Leveraging library resources to support community-led initiatives.
- Measuring the impact of community partnerships on library reach and relevance.
- Case Study: A city library's successful collaboration with local immigrant and refugee support organizations to provide tailored services.

Module 11: Social Justice Advocacy and the Library's Role

- Understanding the library's role as a champion for social justice and human rights.
- Advocating for equitable policies and practices within the library and broader community.
- Leveraging library resources to promote civic engagement and informed citizenship.
- Addressing intellectual freedom challenges through a DEI lens.
- Case Study: A public library's response to community calls for social justice, including creating resource guides and hosting public forums.

Module 12: Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression in Library Practices

- Defining anti-racism and anti-oppression frameworks.
- Identifying and dismantling systemic racism and oppressive structures within libraries.
- Developing anti-racist policies for collections, programming, and staff development.
- Promoting accountability and continuous learning in anti-racism work.
- Case Study: A consortium of academic libraries collaborating on an anti-racism audit of their shared cataloging practices.

Module 13: Intersectionality and Inclusive Design

- Understanding intersectionality: how various social and political identities combine to create unique experiences of discrimination and privilege.
- Applying an intersectional lens to all DEI initiatives.
- Designing truly inclusive services and spaces that consider multiple dimensions of identity.
- Creating a welcoming environment for LGBTQIA+, Indigenous, and other marginalized groups.
- Case Study: A library's redesign of its youth services area, incorporating intersectional considerations for diverse family structures, abilities, and cultural backgrounds.

Module 14: Measuring Impact and Sustaining DEI Efforts

- Developing a sustainable framework for ongoing DEI initiatives.
- Establishing clear goals, metrics, and reporting mechanisms.
- Celebrating successes and learning from challenges.
- Integrating DEI into the library's strategic planning and budget cycles.
- Case Study: A county library system's annual DEI impact report, showcasing progress and identifying future priorities.

Module 15: Future Trends in DEI for Libraries

- Emerging trends in DEI, such as AI ethics, mental health equity, and environmental justice intersections.
- The role of technology in advancing DEI in libraries.
- Preparing for future demographic shifts and community needs.
- Continuous learning and adaptation for ongoing DEI leadership.
- Case Study: Discussing how a leading library is leveraging AI to improve accessibility for patrons with cognitive disabilities, while also considering potential biases in AI development.
